

The Richard Hamilton Acquisition Prize Sponsored by ChampionScott Partners

About the Prize

ChampionScott Partners has chosen to honor Richard Hamilton in the naming of its prize as a tribute to the artist's profound influence on their own appreciation of prints, and to acknowledge his impact on generations of printmakers. This annual prize enables museums to acquire significant prints for their collections at the IFPDA Print Fair.

About the Sponsor

ChampionScott Partners is an industry leading retained executive search firm. We deliver leadership solutions for technology, technology-enabled and growth businesses, globally. Throughout every engagement we undertake, we apply strategic insights of an experienced search partner, the operating skills of an internationally expert management team, and the recruiting capabilities of a premiere executive search firm.

Who is eligible?

Any museum worldwide that is open to the public and primarily devoted primarily to the exhibition of works of fine art.

How does a museum apply?

Submit your application letter online: <https://www.tfaforms.com/4978891>

Applications for this year's prize must be received by the IFPDA Foundation by Monday, September 12th, 2022.

Who selects the recipient?

One museum is selected from among the applications received. The selection process is administered by the IFPDA Foundation.

When will the Award Recipient be announced?

The museum selected will be notified in late September with a public announcement to follow.

Prize Stipulations

- The total funds awarded will not exceed $10,000.
- Funds not used at the Fair are forfeited.
- More than one work may be purchased for a combined total expenditure of up to $10,000.
- Works over $10,000 may be acquired with the balance of funds coming from other sources.
- Selection(s) must be made from works being offered for sale at the Fair.
- Purchase(s) must be completed by Sunday, October 30, 2022.

What does the winner agree to do?

1. Notify the IFPDA of selection(s) before the close of the Fair.
2. Permit the acquisition(s) to be described and publicized in conjunction with the prize.
3. Provide recognition for The Richard Hamilton Acquisition Prize sponsored by Champion & Partners as the source of funding for the acquisition.

About the IFPDA Foundation

The IFPDA Foundation is a 501(c)3 charitable organization committed to the support of exhibitions, programs and scholarly projects that increase the awareness and appreciation of fine prints. Through its grants program, the Foundation aims to motivate museums and educational institutions to sustain and fortify their commitment to this important form of artistic expression.